The Rector's Reflections

Challenge and change are facts of life, and in the life of a Church there are occasions when they are brought into sharp relief.

We have had two meetings with Archdeacon Fiona and a visit from Bishop Mark during the last 12 months in which we have contributed to and reflected on a strategic review which aimed to identify challenges and deliver the change needed to meet them. For the united benefice of Rusper and Colgate the specific challenges have been the approach of Kilnwood Vale and the cumulative effect of the competing differences and demands of the two parishes during the last 20 years.

With the villages separating over this coming Summer the challenges themselves will change. It has been clear for many years that the Diocese of Chichester does not see Rusper as being sustainable as a stand alone parish. This should not daunt us from dreaming dreams having visions and re imagining possibilities.

We've had some memorable services this year - Pentecost and Hymns and Pimms stand out - and our successful fundraising events have brought the wider community together and generated a lot of innocent fun.

Over the last decade our church has experienced growth. With few exceptions all the faces on our PCC are new since 2006 and for a small village we've welcomed a significant number of newcomers to our congregation during that period. However our most recent growth cycle peaked as long ago as 2012 and has shrunk noticeably since then. So there is room for more and there are other ways in which growth can be measured than in numbers, and ways it can be nurtured and sustained.

The Gospel reminds us that the Christian community is frequently thought of as a flock, never as an organisation in the modern sense.

When ideas run away with us like silly sheep, discussions about money appear quickly like an eager sheepdog on their tail but that shouldn't spoil the fun or dampen enthusiasm. When a project is right and matters, experience has shown we can rise to the financial challenge as we've done for the roof and bells in recent years. Signing up to the Parishes Giving Scheme should help us harness even more effectively the existing and latent generosity of parishioners. While we've paused in our plan for a toilet in church to consider other possibilities, the discussion has refocused us on other wider aspects of the use of the building.

The Season of Invitation while seeking growth starts as an opportunity to look at ourselves and what is on offer for those we would like reach in the coming year and beyond. The Broadwood legacy is something with which we seek to engage beyond the walls of church.

We are grateful for all that is done by the PCC and elected Church Officers, Gerald and the choir, our sidesmen in their crucial ministry of welcome, our ringers, readers lay ministers at Communion and the faithful service expressed in many small but significant acts and contributions made week by week, year by year, willingly, cheerfully sometimes anonymously. As we go forward with plenty of ideas and energy and opportunities for involvement this, is a Eucharistic moment for us to acknowledge thanks for each other.

Every Blessing

A BOOT IN THE CHIMNEY

In the early 1980's, when we were having some work done on the inglenook fireplace and chimney at the old house at Wimland Farm, we were surprised to discover, tucked away on a ledge about halfway up the chimney, a small child's boot. It was a stout, lace-up boot, made of leather with hobnails in the sole and heel and measuring only 6 inches long and 4" high. It was a very well used boot and had clearly been mended and patched on more than one occasion and, presumably, passed down from one sibling to the next. Having been in the chimney for more than a hundred years, it was very well preserved, to the point that between the heel and the sole, there was still a lump of Wimland Farm clay which the little person must have walked into the house the last time he or she took the boot off. Whose boot was it and why was it there?

With the assistance of the very helpful curator at the Horsham Museum we learnt that boots up chimneys were pretty two a penny, but why they were there is still a mystery. The "shoe cult" was found all over the country and overseas; in buildings like Winchester Cathedral and Hampton Court Palace, as well as in tiny cottages. The earliest discoveries date back to the 1300's and continued until the beginning of the 20th century, when it would seem that the practice died down. Northampton Museum is the centre of knowledge and maintains a record of all reported discoveries – quite fitting for a town that used to be the centre of the boot and shoe industry!

Numerous learned historians and researchers have come up with theories as to the purpose of the practice. One is that a boot was placed up a chimney to ward away and, indeed, trap witches. One theorist claimed that witches were attracted by the scent of feet and so when they flew down a chimney, they would head for the boot and, once inside, could not get out, presumably having no reverse thrust on their broomsticks! Another is that a boot or shoe is, in some way, a fertility symbol; they are tied to the back of wedding cars and, it is rumoured that there was an old woman who lived in a shoe, who had so many children.....etc, etc.

We will probably never know the real reason why the boot was put up the Wimland's chimney but I cannot help wondering about the little people who wore it.

MAY DAY DANCING IN CHURCH

The family service on May Day with the Broadwood Morris Men dancing and playing music in our Church brought tears to the eyes. We could have been back hundreds of years enjoying village traditions. Nick's service and the dancing Morris Men were perfect on a beautiful, sunny May Day.

What a great village we live in!

THANKS FROM VERNON

I would just like to thank all those who came to the Star on Saturday 14th May to join me & my family in a farewell drink. I was really overcome when I returned home by the amount of friends & customers who came to have a drink with me. Although not everybody came at once (which was probably a good thing) with about 70 to 80 people arriving it would have been held outside. I also would like to thank everyone for their gifts & their good luck messages. For those that were unable to come, for what ever reason, I'm sorry you missed a wonderful evening, however, I'm sure when I come visiting in the village & I bump into you I will willingly have a drink with you. Thank you all for your good wishes, of which I shall take many of your comments on board to help in my retirement. Will miss you all, god bless you.

Regards Vernon.

HOPE KEITH TRUST

Hello from your Village Agent – Jane Culllum

I hope this finds you all very well and enjoying the warmer weather (we had some lovely days in May!).

I have been busy getting on with Village Agent work, working my way around Rusper, getting to know more about your village and meeting some of you on the way.

Village Agent contact cards have been placed in The Rusper Village stores. Posters have been put up in the village showing the very tasty monthly Sunday roast at Lavinia House Club and Electric Blanket testing scheduled for October 2016, bookings being taken now.

As I have been getting around and meeting some of you, I have been asking the question “would non drivers be interested in a new weekly mini bus transport service running once a week at the beginning of the week? This service would be available to villagers that are unable to use taxis because of disability or medical reasons and would be charged at a very reasonable cost. The mini bus would collect and drop villagers off at their door and run between Rusper, Colgate and Faygate to Horsham and back. Or maybe to either Hilliers or Newbridge Nurseries. Please get in contact to register your interest.

Another question on which I would really appreciate your feedback is “How much interest would there be in a Cream Tea occasion in the village. This may be held on the green in Gardeners Green.

Please contact me on 07591 049042 or 01403 751322

MAY DAY CELEBRATIONS

This year's May Day Celebrations was another tremendous village event. The May Day Committee did an amazing job AGAIN and we think everyone who came, would agree with us that it was a brilliant day. Thank you to all who organised it and the helpers who worked so hard during it.
