Remember...Remember…

As we seek to bring our three churches together the month of November gives us two great opportunities for an expression of unity. Both Colgate and Roffey celebrate their Patronal Sundays of Dedication in November All Saints of the 1st and the Feast of Christ the King on the 22nd.

On the 2 on the commemoration of All Souls there is an evening service at which the names of departed loved ones are remembered aloud and this will take place at an evening service on the Monday. Please do add any names to the list in church which will be read out at Roffey during the service.

Then, as we end the month we unite once again to welcome Bishop Ruth to preach at All Saints.

It is still early days in finding ways for our three churches to dovetail with one another and I remain grateful for your patience with me as we continue to navigate our way.

"In the Loop" group to meet in the Hope Keith Room

"In the Loop" is a new group for people with hearing loss that will soon be meeting monthly in the Hope Keith Room.

Many people who wear hearing aids can switch to a "T" setting enabling them to pick up sound directly from a hearing loop system. This can reduce background noise making speech much clearer so that people can participate more fully in meetings and activities.

Around one in three people in the UK has some degree of hearing loss or tinnitus and the figure rises to almost 80 per cent of people over 70. It is often an invisible disability. Someone may seem quiet, distracted, forgetful or even unfriendly, when actually they simply cannot hear or understand what has been said. Many of us become very good at pretending that we have heard. We smile, nod, and hope that our response fits the conversation. Sometimes it works. Sometimes not!

Most of us can probably think of times that we misheard something and had a laugh about it. Hearing loss can certainly produce funny moments, but over time the constant effort of trying to follow conversations can become exhausting.

Hearing loss is a major health concern with evidence linking untreated hearing loss with poorer mental health, social isolation, and an increased risk of dementia. Older people with hearing loss are also more likely to experience depression. Communication is at the heart of being human. We all like to chat with friends, join discussions, share a joke, and feel we belong.

Situations can become challenging. A family meal in a busy restaurant, a church coffee morning, a club meeting, or a gathering with friends can become hard work. There's background noise and maybe people speaking at once.

People often think of loneliness as being on your own, but one of the loneliest places can be a crowded room. Others laugh and chat around you and it is very easy to feel left out if you cannot follow what is being said.

This might lead to withdrawal from activities people once enjoyed. They may stop attending clubs, community groups, church events, or family gatherings because it is easier to stay at home than to face the frustration of not being able to follow conversations. But withdrawing from life can make things worse. The less contact we have with other people, the more isolated we become.

That is one of the main reasons why In The Loop was started. To create a place where nobody has to apologise for asking someone to repeat something and where people understand the challenges of hearing loss because they have experienced them themselves. Communication happens at a pace that works for everyone.

We aim to bring people together, socialise, make friends, share experiences, and exchange practical ideas about coping with hearing loss. Also to provide information about services, technologies and resources available such as devices and skills that can make communication easier.

It's very important that those around us understand what they can do to enable easier communication. Like getting our attention before speaking, facing us and perhaps saying things in a different way if we don't understand. Simple changes will alleviate frustrations on both sides.

Finding out about how other people deal with similar challenges can be reassuring and encouraging. We invite speakers from organisations and services that support people with hearing loss.

Hearing loss affects so much more than just ears. It affects confidence, relationships, independence and wellbeing and nobody should feel that they have to face it alone.

If this article resonates with you, please come and meet us "In The Loop" – we'd love to meet you!

Rusper Chronicle

We had a very pleasant 2 hours in the new Hope Keith room at our October meeting.

We first talked about medical matters in Rusper and a once a week visit from Doctor Fear who lived in Newdigate and rented a room in Church cottages on a Friday. He would also deliver many babies at home before and after the NHS was established.

We also discussed Ghyll Manor and the many people who have lived there since it was first known as Highland Butts in the early 1800s and then the change of name to The Cottage in the late 1800s and then the next change of name to Ghyll Manor in the 1920s. There were many Fetes given by the owners to raise funds for the village hall and the playing fields.

Our next meeting to talk about our history will be in the village hall on the 12th November at 2pm
Everyone welcome.

RUSPER PARISH COUNCIL
October Update

News from Rusper Parish Council

There's been plenty to discuss at Rusper Parish Council, with updates on village safety, the playground, the recreation ground and some important planning matters at the latest meeting.

Keeping our roads safer

The local Speedwatch group is starting to take shape, with three people expressing an interest at the Village Hall Hub Open Day and another five or six potential volunteers coming forward from the wider community.

The aim is to recruit 12–16 volunteers so that small teams can take turns monitoring traffic around the village. Particular concern was raised about drivers ignoring the 20mph speed limit outside the school. Volunteers will receive training before taking part, and the Police Co-ordinator is helping to identify suitable locations for sessions. If you're interested in getting involved, further volunteers would be very welcome!

Playground updates

The damaged playground gate post has now been replaced, and the new benches have been installed. The tarmac around the hopscotch area is also looking rather tired, with cracks and deterioration despite previous repairs.

Improvements at the recreation ground

There has been some work to repair the pavilion ceiling following water leaks, and further maintenance is needed. The ceiling needs treating and repainting, while the flooring and windows also need attention. These matters will be discussed further with the Sports Club.

The Sports Club has agreed to donate £2,000 to the Parish Council towards the additional maintenance work.

A big thank you also goes to the Plymouth Brethren for donating a storage container for the sports ground and helping to transport it, and to Browns for assisting with the delivery.

Streetlights getting ready for new regulations

Four of the Parish Council's streetlight lamps will need replacing ahead of new regulations coming into effect in February 2027. These works will go ahead before the Autumn.

Land West of Ifield and the Local Plan

The proposed development at Land West of Ifield remains an important issue for the Parish Council and local residents.
National Highways has requested further information from Homes England and has advised that the planning application cannot be determined before 11 December 2026. Depending on when the information is provided and the planning meeting dates, November may be the first opportunity for the application to be considered.
The Parish Council has also been given the opportunity to speak at several sessions of the Horsham District Local Plan hearings on 14 and 15 October.

Speaking up on Gatwick

Gatwick and the impact of aircraft noise remain on the Council's radar. Councillors discussed concerns about night flights and the potential for more flights to arrive overnight.
The Council has agreed to write to its local MP in support of an independent aviation Ombudsman, which would oversee decisions made by the Civil Aviation Authority on airspace changes. The letter will also ask the MP to support appropriate provisions in the relevant aviation legislation.

Looking after our village

During the public forum, a resident raised the idea of litter-picking along the main roads around the area. Horsham District Council offers an Adopt a Street scheme, which could be worth exploring for anyone keen to help keep our surroundings tidy.
Councillors also discussed the Billingshurst Community Bus and the need for more volunteer drivers and help sharing publicity. The Men's Shed and Sports Club were suggested as possible places to encourage community involvement.
There was also a suggestion to bring a vintage horse box to the Sports Club to provide refreshments, and the Parish Clerk will look into the idea.

A few other decisions

The Council approved its July and August financial reports, agreed its proposed earmarked reserves and accepted the interim audit report.
A £50 poppy wreath was approved for Remembrance commemorations.
Councillors also agreed to obtain quotes for cyber and business interruption insurance and appointed two councillors to review the grass-cutting tender documents.

Thank you to everyone who continues to take an interest in our village and its future. Whether it's helping with Speedwatch, keeping our roads tidy or supporting local community projects, it's the people who get involved who help make Rusper such a lovely place to live.
